Speaker: Taylor Slaughter
Topic: The World of Orchids:
Taiwan - Judging the Taiwan
International Orchid Show
2009

Taylor started growing orchids in 1971 after a trip to South Florida when her husband, Frank, insisted on their buying two plants. "It was the beginning of a lifelong passion, although I had to be dragged into it," says Taylor. "We have always grown paphs and pleurothallids, but have some disagreements on how to allocate greenhouse space for other genera. Now that they have moved to Philadelphia to be near granddaughters, they have again begun to grow large cattleyas, which Frank loves, and cymbidiums, which are a favorite of Taylor's. They required too much space in the Pittsburgh greenhouse. They are also trying other genera, especially dendrochilums and bulbophyllums, which they love for their complexity."

Taylor's interest in judging grew out of her other passion - learning and teaching about art in museums. She believes her training in the appreciation of art helps her to recognize the beauty in orchids. Taylor became an AOS-accredited judge in 1987, and was the Chair of the National Capital Judging Center from 1999-2003. She serves at present as a Trustee for the American Orchid Society. In March, 2009, she and Frank had the privilege of being invited to judge the Taiwan International Orchid Show.

6:30 to 7 pm will be hors d'ourves including assorted international cheeses and pepperoni, a crudite display with dip, asian pork shanks. Calamari fritti - a Capozzoli specialty, lightly dusted with flour and fried, then sauteed in a balsamic reduction with peppercini and grape tomatoes.

Dinner will begin at 7 with Capozzolis' Signature Salad. The buffet will contain Pork Italiano - a butterflied pork loin rolled with Prosciutto, Provolone Cheese, Spinach and Caramelized Onions and sliced to order. Chicken Alicia, a boneless breast of chicken filled with a mushroom and herb stuffing, served with sauce supreme. Grilled seasonal vegetables. A new colorful roasted potato blend containing, Purple, Yukon Gold, and Sweet potatoes. Lobster Ravioli in a sun dried tomato/alfredo sauce. Finally, Fried Banana Carmel Cheesecake, which is rolled in a tortilla, deep fried and dusted with cinnamon and sugar.

The cash bar (no credit cards) will be open all night featuring top shelf spirits, 8 beers on tap and several different wines. Tickets, as has been customary for the last several years, are $30 per person. Students are $15. We haven't charged gratuity in the past because it has been in restaurants and have passed a basket for the servers. A basket for a voluntary gratuity will be passed at the end of the evening. The bar is not operated by Capozzoli Catering so you should tip your bartender accordingly if you so choose.

Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month (except July and August) at Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, 1006 Wilson, Wilmington at 7 PM. Visitors are always welcome.
